Quad Contracts Ltd realises taking responsibility for health and safety from the bottom up is the means by which fundamental change in health and safety standards will be achieved. We have instigated our Best Practice Manual, throughout the company to give guidance with regard Company policy and Safety guidance.

It is about attitudes and behaviour towards health and safety, and I believe that our positive attitude is ensuring that clients, designers, contractors and all site personnel, whether supervisors or operatives, are aware that they have a responsibility for health and safety matters not just on an individual basis but as a team.
